RISK MANAGEMENT & FAILURE TO TRAIN ...

Harris v Ohio

For Michigan Emergency Responders vehicle and stress related incidents remain the top 2 risk management concerns for 2011.

Accident, injury and fatality rates are up to 5 times that of the civilian population. PTSD, alcohol and divorce rates are among the highest of all professions. Yet our training hours reflect the direct opposite.

We are expected to operate at higher speeds, clear intersections, avoid accidents and control skids after training at 10 mph in an acclimation course. We are exposed to adrenaline and trauma that no other professions see. Yet we receive no education on what to expect or warning signs to look for. We train for hours in order to save strangers lives and yet ignore those areas that are taking our lives!

Are you training with the utmost diligence for your risk management needs?

2 THE RESCUE recognizes the financial stress that you constantly face which is why we offer superior programs for entire organizations starting at $250.00!

Our unique training will reduce your liability, save lives and ensure that you are trained in the critical skills that you are expected to perform.
